Marshal Miller Will Stop Moonshining in Dixie.

Good-bye Dixie wine, I leave you, Though it fills my heart with pain, Some day possibly I'll greet you. When the bung-hole's out again.

Somebody who had lapsed into a mournful mood and had presumably been struck with the sentiment of "Good-bye Dolly Gray," laid the above "Good-bye Dolly Gray," laid the above on Marshal Miller's desk yesterday. It was affectionately inscribed to the appointment of a deputy United States marshal for St. George. The marshal announced that he had conferred the above title on Joseph T. Atkin, who has just returned to Washington county after an absence of two years in the missionary field in California. He said, also, that his main reason for having a deputy at St. George was the conditions there as regards illicit distilling.

There will be grief in Dixie that the wave of reform has struck the marshal's office. Since the days when Brigham Young sent out a hardy detachment of the advance guard of western civilization to settle the Dixie country marshals have been unknown.

The grape and its possibilities, how-ever, have became familiar to every man, woman and child from St. George man, woman and child from St. George to Toquerville and on to Parowan. Not that the people of Washington county have had any intention of violating the laws. There is no intention of conveying here that impression. But if you ever went through Dixie, you probably had it brought to you in a $3 cask out of the back door, at $1.50 per wint and naid the money willingly.

Now there will be hardship in Dixle. There are four tons of grapes to every resident and the crop cannot possibly be disposed of in its native form. Unless it is converted into the luscious, insidious beverage known only to the inhabitant and occasional visitor to that part of Deseret, it must spoil. Still the marshal intends to enforce the laws. He says that for many years a deputy marshal has been a necessity in that country, but not until now has his way been clear to ap-

WORMON CHILDREN MAKING ALKALI LAND FERTILE

Rev. George Bailey's Plan for INTERESTING EXPERIMENT OF Missionary Work.

MORE ATTENTION SHOULD BE PAID TO CHILDREN.

The feature of yesterday's session of the Teachers' association of the Utah George Bailey of Westminster church on "The Necessity of Early Childhood triumph over Mormonism was dependent, not upon the stormy conquest of men and women, but the gentle training of the children and the conversion of the young from the doctrines of Mormonism to the teachings of other denominations. Mr. Bailey made a lengthy talk, in which he outlined the methods used to instill the principles of Mormonism into the youth of the dominant church, and showed how these same methods might be turned to account to turn the same children to other creeds. The morning session opened with a chapel service on the subject of "The Grace of True Humility," led by Rev. Mr. Davis of Kaysville. After this Miss Serena Neflsen gave a description of the Passion play at Oberammergau, and some interesting stories of her travels ent, not upon the stormy conquest of some interesting stories of her travels through Europe. Rev. G. W. Martin then conducted an interesting study on "Bits of Nature."

Mr. Bailey's Address.

At this point Rev. Mr. Bailey made his address. He introduced his remarks by stating that the Christians were here to convert the Mormons and show them to convert the Mormons and show them a better way, and ne thought that it could be more successfully done if more earnest attention were paid to the children. As a means of getting hold of the child, he mentioned singing, referring to the manner in which the Mormons have their children sing the doctrines of the church from their infancy, and thus instill into their minds the teachings of their religion. This, he said, was a good plan, and what the Christians should do. "But," said he, "the Mormons have mistaken views, and the child's mind will take in error as well as truth. The consequence is that the children are so saturated with the doctrine that it is hard to get them away from it."

of Christ?"

He next took the song O, My Father," and decried the idea which it presented of a heavenly mother as well as a Heavenly Father. "The whole Mormon conception, their whole system," said Mr. Bailey with warmin, "is based upon this idea of a procreating God. Mormonism does not take its awful hold from woman, even after death, but makes her the plaything of man throughout eternity."

throughout eternity."

Mr. Balley then read from the Calvanistic doctrines in regard to the outies of parents and teachers in the church in training the children, and declared that child conversion was the most potent factor in the conjuest of Utah for Christianity. He urged that the training of the children be not neglected.

In the afternoon the programme was dispensed with and the members of the association, about twenty-five in num-ber, enjoyed an outling at Saltair and a plunge in the salt water.

inherited—handed down from generation to generation, and family to family. By far the most destructive of these is Cancer, which finds the greatest number of its victims among the children and grand-children of those whose blood was tainted with this dreadful malady. You may carry this poison in the blood for years, but as the vital powers begin to wane a slight bruise or cut, wart or mole, sore or pimple may develop into Cancer. From middle life to old age is the time when the slumbering poison is most apt to break out, a sore or ulcer often degenerating into Cancer, and Tumors become more progressive and ulcerate through the skin, the sharp, shooting pains causing the most intense suffering.

The Cancer patient naturally grows despondent as one after another the usual remedies fail, and the sore shows no sign of healing. The impurities that have been accumulating in the system, perhaps for generations, cannot be eliminated nor the poisoned blood made pure by salves, washes and plasters. The proper treatment is to purify and build up the blood, remove the cause, when the sore or ulcer heals.
